

GETTING STARTED IN HAMBURG

End of studies in sight – what's next?

You will soon be finished with your studies and are wondering whether there are further perspectives for you in Hamburg?

We have set up a modified event to provide an overview of how our services can help you in the transition from university to work and to inform about residence regulations for internationals. We briefly explain the services that the Hamburg Welcome Center provides. After that, we will offer different breakout sessions. Depending on your current situation, you can choose the one that suits you best. There we will give you more in-depth information and answer your individual questions.

Join us if:

- you are looking for a job after completion of your studies
- you already have a job in prospect and are wondering how to proceed
- you are still undecided whether you should stay in Hamburg at all

The event will be in English. Please note that we cannot answer individual questions about the right of residence in this event. If you need individual advice, you can send us an email to info@welcome.hamburg.de.
